Education

- Univeristy of Wisconsin - Madison | Political Science, PhD, Expected 2026
- University of North Carolina - Asheville | BA in Mathematics: Statistics, Minor: Political Science Spring 2021

Research experience:

- Student Intern, Metric Geometry and Gerrymandering Group under Dr. Moon Duchin Participated in an intensive training session for graduate and undergraduate students to develop skills in data wrangling, data cleaning, GIS, Python, and GeoPandas for voting rights, gerrymandering, and election projects around the country. Coded and cleaned precinct data at the county level, and election data at the state level for counties in Alabama and Louisiana, and digitized counties for Illinois in QGIS, for the lab's website, districtr.org.
- University of North Carolina- Asheville, Asheville, NC August 2020 to Current Undergraduate Research, Societal Violence Scale under Dr. Linda Cornett Analyzed the annual State Department Human Rights Reports to measure physical integrity abuses committed by non-state actors for 201countries. As a coder, I collected data needed for the reports and graded each country in different victim and perpetrator categories, as well as providing each country with an overall score. The purpose was to compile quantitative measurement score for each country to mark improvement for every country regarding non-state physical abuses.

Teaching experience:

- Tutor, Mathematics Department Tutored in Introductory Statistics, Introductory Mathematics, Quantitative Literacy, Humanities and Social Sciences. Created a nurturing, and supportive learning environment for individual and small group tutoring sessions. Worked with fellow students to strengthen math proficiency, study habits, test-taking skills, and time management.
